Karl Grabner resigns from Management Board of Binder+Co AG

Karl Grabner resigned from the Management Board of Binder+Co AG at his own request on 30 October 2018 to take on new professional challenges in the Management Board of Waagner Biro Bridge Systems. Karl Grabner had been on the Management Board of the Gleisdorf-based company since 2000 where he was responsible for the engineering, production, research and development, after sales and purchasing divisions. Martin Pfeffer and Jörg Rosegger, his fellow board members, have taken over these duties.

With a doctorate in Montanism, Karl Grabner had been at Binder+Co since 1991. He was initially responsible for standardization in the conveying division, then from 1994 onwards he was put in charge of the conveying division, first as product area manager and then divisional manager, before being appointed to the Management Board in early 2000. In this capacity, he concentrated the business activities of Binder+Co AG on machine and systems engineering for processing technology in the raw materials and recycling industries.

“As a member of the Management Board, I had the chance to take on very challenging tasks for some 19 years and to accompany Binder+Co AG through some very exciting times,” said Karl Grabner. “Following a very difficult phase recently, it was my task, under the leadership of Martin Pfeffer, to help steer the company back onto a stable course. Knowing that I will be leaving the company in good hands and on a solid base, made my decision to take on new challenges easier, thus giving the new management the necessary scope for further renewal.”

With his contribution, Binder+Co AG developed and consolidated its market-leading position in waste glass processing and the screening of difficult-to-screen bulk materials at international level. Acquisition of the Italian mechanical engineering company Comec and the establishment of Bublon, for the production of thermally expanded microspheres, also broadened the product portfolio.

Martin Pfeffer, spokesman for the Management Board of Binder+Co AG, said, “We wish Karl Grabner every success in his new endeavors.”
