Service and Commissioning Technician - Full time

North America (Denver, CO)

We know what we do

Binder+Co is an internationally successful specialist in machinery and systems for processing valuable primary and secondary raw materials. As a specialist in sorting, drying and screening technology, we use innovative products to make a sustainable contribution to the efficient and careful handling of scarce resources. We are expanding the service team of our US subsidiary in Denver, CO and have the following position as Service and Commissioning Technician vacant:

We love what we do

Interested in business trips with plenty of customer contact, an exciting, varied and responsible job servicing and commissioning high-tech products and systems? Then this could be just the job you're looking for!

Your duties will include the following activities and responsibilities:

- Commissioning as well as servicing machines and systems
- Carrying out performance tests as part of machine or system handover
- Customer training courses
- Advising and assisting customers in technical support as well as spare part and wear part management
- Participating in the day-to-day after-sales business
- Introducing innovative ideas and suggestions for the continuous improvement of processes and products

Your profile:

- You enjoy technology and dealing with customers
- You have completed a technical education (focus on software an advantage)
- Your first professional experience was ideally in mechanical and plant engineering
- You are highly service- and customer-oriented, willing to take responsibility and learn
- You have a sound knowledge of IT and software
- You are willing to travel (40-80% of working time)

We look farther than the horizon

We offer a challenging, varied and exciting work environment in a prestigious and at the same time innovative and dynamic company that is known worldwide for its top-of-the-range technical products. A responsible job with performance-related pay, health insurance and a motivated, extremely cooperative and competent team with a flat hierarchy are just some of the other bonuses of your potential future job at Binder+Co.
